

Introduction of Garrett

Olympic Medalist Garrett Lowney

Garrett Lowney's mission is very simple...Empower others to unleash the power within themselves. Garrett Lowney is a motivational speaker whose exponential success is attributed to his development of "The Every Day Olympian"! A sports-themed message cultivated through entertaining stories, personal triumph, and hard lessons learned.

Garrett's motivational keynotes and seminars engage leadership, sales, and individual challenges; inspiring others by "Providing the Power to Succeed" through personal and sometimes humbling experiences. Garrett's philosophy operates under the premise that being an "Every Day Olympian" is a process, a mindset and a way of life.

- Garrett was only twenty years old when he became the youngest U.S. wrestler to make an Olympic Team. Not only did he make the team, he beat a 4-time world champ on his way to earning a bronze medal.
- Aside from making two Olympic Teams, he was an 11 time national champion in 3 different styles of wrestling, a junior world champion, and member of 2 NCAA Division I national championship teams.
- Garrett received his BSB in Marketing from the University of Minnesota and his MBA in finance from Lakeland College. He is now a sales leader in a $5 billion organization.
- He is an avid supporter of many youth organizations and has been coaching and mentoring young athletes for the last 12 years.

Please give a warm welcome to our speaker...Garrett Lowney.
